

WILSON SPEAKS IN OMAHA TODAY

President Receives Noisy Welcome in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois

BRIEF STOP AT CHICAGO

Executive Confers With Department Heads at Western Democratic Headquarters

REACH OMAHA THIS MORNING

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—President Wilson, penetrating the middle west today for his speech in Omaha tomorrow, received a noisy welcome from many thousands of persons in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. He interpreted the enthusiasm to one crowd as meaning, "you believe in me." At stop after stop the railroad stations were packed, at several places bands played and frequently the President remarked on the cordiality.

Refusing to turn his trip into a speech-making tour, the President nevertheless kept up a running fire of remarks at every stop. Interest among those who spoke to him centered most about the eight-hour law for railroad employees.

Mr. Wilson made a brief stop at Chicago tonight and conferred with Senator Walsh in charge of Democratic western headquarters, Senator Sausbury of Delaware, manager of the senatorial committee and other department heads.

Several hundred persons, including local politicians, railroad men and many women, flocked to the train yards and cheered the President when he appeared and shook hands with those nearest him.

Senator Walsh told him the campaign in the West was "more than satisfactory."

At every stop between Pittsburgh, passed early this morning, and Chicago, the President appeared on the rear platform of his private car, waved to the crowds, explained he was making no speeches, and then shook hands with as many as possible.

"I am before the jury and can't say anything," was the way he explained his failure to speak in several towns.

"I am not making a speech-making campaign," said the President at Lima, Ohio, "but it touches me and gratifies me very much to get the greetings I have all along the line; and Ohio has certainly shown her hospitality."

"We want to see Mrs. Wilson," a man shouted. "I'll admit she is better worth looking at than I am," replied the President as he brought his wife forward.

"You were with us in the eight-hour day and we are with you," said a man at Orrville, Ohio, a railroad town.

"Good," the President replied.

"When the President stopped at Valparaiso, Ind., tonight, a crowd, including some students drew him in to a reference to Mr. Hughes' whisks."

"I haven't any speech to make," said Mr. Wilson. "I have never met you before but your manners are very familiar. I am mighty glad to see you."

A man in the crowd called out "Aren't you glad he hasn't got whisks?"

"You are a clean shaven crowd yourself," replied the President.

At Fort Wayne, the first stop in Indiana, Mr. Wilson said: "I haven't anything to say, my fellow citizens, except that it is exceedingly refreshing to get away from official duties and out among the folks again, and the sort of greeting you are giving me fills my heart with a great deal of gratitude. I am heartily obliged to you."

A railroad brakeman, just off duty pushed out his hand and said:

"Right there, President. She's dirty but she's going to hit the rooster hard."

E. G. Hoffman, Democratic national committeeman from Indiana, rode for a while with the President and later gave out an informal statement in which he claimed that Indiana would cast its electoral vote for Wilson.

The President will arrive at Omaha at about 11:40 o'clock tomorrow morning, after passing through a section of Iowa. He will make at least two speeches, one at a lunch, and the other in the evening at a non-partisan meeting. He will also review an historical pageant and parade.

He will leave tomorrow night for Long Branch, N. J., where he will arrive Saturday morning.

COMMEND FARM LOAN AND RESERVE ACTS

ILLINOIS BANKERS' ASSOCIATION OPENS CONVENTION

One Speaker Terms Reserve Act a Measure of Financial Preparedness—Senator Hollis Comments and Explains Loan Act.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 4.—The federal farm loan act and the federal bank reserve act were commended as useful and much needed legislation by two speakers before the first day's session of the Illinois State Bankers' Association today.

Albert F. Dawson, president of the First National bank, of Davenport, Iowa, said the federal reserve act will take care of all future financial emergencies—is a measure of financial preparedness. He quoted figures showing that the national bank resources of the United States have increased 33 per cent during the past year, due in great part to the reserve act, and that the financial resources of the country's banks is now one third greater than that of England, France and Germany combined.

Henry F. Hollis, United States senator from New Hampshire, in his address on "The Federal Farm Loan Act," caused an unfavorable impression when he stated that he had known cases where farmers giving mortgages as security for loans, had paid annual interest of 25 per cent. He modified the statement by saying it was not the fault of the bankers and blamed commission men for the usurious rate. He commended and explained the loan act declaring that it could not be made a party issue as it was not a partisan measure and each party would be equally represented in managing it. He said the act is being well received by banks all over the country, and he believed it would benefit both the bankers and farmers. He was cheered at the close of his address.

R. F. McNally, vice president of the Mississippi Valley Trust company of St. Louis urged that the increasing overhead expenses of banks should not be met by decreasing the salaries of employees. He said banks in small towns should stay out of politics and cooperate in operating small clearing houses.

Rockford is so far the only city being boomed for next year's meeting of the association.

JUDGE CREIGHTON DECIDES FERGUS CASE

HOLDS APPROPRIATIONS TOTALLING $15,662.61 INVALID

Most of Amounts Contained in Omnibus Bill—Holds Them Void Because Measure Did Not Receive a Two Thirds Vote.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—Appropriations of the 49th general assembly totalling $15,662.61 are held invalid in an opinion handed down today by Judge Creighton of the Sangamon county circuit court in the case of John B. Fergus of Chicago against State Treasurer Russell and State Auditor Brady. This was a suit for injunction to restrain the payment of certain funds contained in deficiency appropriation bills.

Most of these appropriations were contained in the omnibus bill. This bill did not receive a two-thirds majority vote of the legislature, and for this reason, the court holds, the deficiency appropriations are void, since the law requires bills providing deficiency funds to have a two-thirds majority vote.

One of the most important items attacked by Fergus, which was upheld by Judge Creighton, was the appropriation of $3,000 to the Southern Illinois Penitentiary. Several smaller appropriations were held valid by the court's decision because they were contained in bills which received the necessary two thirds majority.

Among the items held invalid are the following:

$767.76 to the governor as the balance of court costs in the Economy Light and Power suit instituted by the Deneen administration; $900 to the attorney general for telephone tolls at his inheritance tax collection office in Chicago;
$1,000 to Amos Sawyer for acting as secretary of the state board of health; $1,356.50 to the Illinois State Board of Architect's examiners;

$3,150 to members of the legislature who investigated the election contest cases.

Barr alleges that more ballots were counted in some precincts than were actually cast. In the eighteen ward, the home of Galpin, Barr alleges he was not credited with a single vote.

TEUTONS RETIRE BEFORE SERBS

With rain still keeping the operations of the Entente Allies and Germans on the western front in France mainly to artillery duels, interest in the world war has been transferred to the Russian, Roumanian and Macedonian fronts, on all of which heavy fighting is in progress.

The fierce battle which has been raging for several days west of Lutsk, in Volhynia, still is without decisive result for either side, while in Galicia, along the Zlota Lipa river where the Russians are trying to push thru to Lemberg, the Austro-German forces still are holding back the Russians. Berlin in its official account of the fighting near Lutsk says the Russian dead number thousands.

Bucharest is silent with regard to the operations of Roumania's troops which crossed the Danube river between Rustchuk and Turutkai and invaded Bulgarian territory, but Berlin says these men have been hastily withdrawn in the fear of being encircled by the forces of Field Marshal von Mackensen.

Fresh gains by the Roumanians against the center and left wing of the Teutonic Allies operating to the north in Dobruja are chronicled by Bucharest. At Amzaeca a position of the Teutons was captured and with it more than one thousand men and seven guns and much war material.

In Transylvania from Orsova on the Danube near the Hungarian-Roumanian frontier, to the Bukovina border, numerous engagements have been fought. Bucharest claims successes for the Roumanian arms in the region of Odokim, between Fogaras and Sighisara and in the mountains west of the river Alt. It is admitted that the Roumanian troops were withdrawn from the Jiu valley, but before falling back they destroyed the coal mines at Petroseny.

The Berlin War Office admits the retirement of the Teutonic Allies before the Serbians to prepared positions near Lake Preseba on the western end of the Macedonian front, and also at Nze hill, north of Kalmakcalan heigl on the Serbo-Greek frontier, and that the British are maintaining themselves in positions they have captured along the Strama river, north of Lake Thimios. In this latter region the British have added to their front town of Jenikoi.

The Italian troops have recaptured from the Austrians the northern slopes of Colbrino and further advanced their position in this region according to Rome.

King Constantine has accepted the resignation of the Greek cabinet and a new ministry is to be formed in which three followers of Former Premier Venizelos, an adherent of the cause of the Entente Allies will have portfolios.

The latest avenue of employment open to women is that of foot ball coach. A college team in Jonesboro, Ark., is now being trained by a woman coach who is said to be familiar with all the fine points of the game and a trained athlete as well. If these advances keep on it will not be long until every trade, avocation and profession is open to women and they will be commanding "equal pay for equal work," which is really one of their inalienable rights.

It was not mere sentimentality which prompted a young English girl to write to a physician, offering to give one of her eyes to a soldier who had lost his sight serving his country. She had read a statement by a famous oculist that it was possible to save the sight of a man wounded in the eye by grafting a portion of the cornea of another person. Then came the offer of noble self-sacrifice, the writer expressing preference to give her eye to save that of some man especially useful in the service. In considering the ravages and anguish of war it is worth while to know that the great conflict brings to notice instances of such nobility and bravery as this offer evinced.

The Child and His Will.

A writer in the current Mother's Magazine in discussing "The Child's Will," asks parents if they are sure that their children have wills of their own and are not merely day after day following the dictates of the parents. Fear is expressed that because the stronger will of the parent prevails and the child is discouraged from choosing and then clinging to the choice made. This article is very well as a matter of theory but evidently the writer has been studying children in their ideal state and not in the actual. The trouble the average parent has is not in encouraging the child to show will power but instead the difficulty is to control that will and have it shaped along the best lines.
There are few children continually, day in and day out, gentle yielding and clinging, outside of the story books.

The County Campaign.

The campaign in Morgan county is moving along quietly as the candidates seek the support of voters mainly in the country districts. Both of the party organizations are planning for some "fireworks" later on and the campaign promises to be more than usually interesting, even for a presidential year. There is growing interest in speculation as to just what effect the votes of women will have, not only in this county and state, but in other surrogate states, on the presidential question. Thousands of women are greatly enthused over their rights to help choose the next president of the United States and the indications are that the women's vote will be an important factor in the November result.

Local Republicans are complacent over the county ticket nominated and the cohesive condition in which the party finds itself. What little jealousy or feeling there may have been engendered in the primary contest has entirely disappeared and Republicans are working shoulder

Geoffrey's page, and said, "Gad-zooks, he writeth middling fair, for one whose soul is of affluence bare; as crossroads' jingler he may cut some grass, but who'll recall him when ten years shall pass? If you'd read verse of great, majestic power, you must peruse the gorgeous works of Gower." Now, it is true that in G. Chaucer's time, the critics joshed him for his paltry rhyme, and held that Langland, of "Piers Plowman" dope, had moderns skinned beyond all hint of hope.
How vain the judgment of the critic clan! They heap their laurels on some ten cent man, and say his harp will never be unstrung, while there are men to read his native tongue.
Their petted poet crosses the divide and is forgotten ere he's fairly dead, while some unknown, who smarted neath their jeers, lives in men's hearts through all the rolling years.

to shoulder for the success of the ticket. The county nominees, Fred B. Henderson for circuit clerk, Carl E. Robinson for state's attorney, Charles A. Rose for coroner, Charles Magill for commissioner and E. M.
Henderson for surveyor, are all men of high standing in the community and exceptionally well qualified to discharge the duties of the offices they are seeking. They are men of such character and record that they can without question command the united party strength and can reasonably be expected to draw some support from the opposing party.

Hughes and Labor.

"By my past ye shall judge me" is, in substance what Gov. Hughes has been telling labor audiences he has addressed in this state. Referring to the charges that he had vetoed certain bills he said, "I will admit it cheerfully, and I may further state that what I did as Gov-nor involved a principle which I would continue to apply if I were elected President. That is, I examined the proposals that were made as thoroughly as I knew how, and what I thought was right I favored, and when I believed the measure was wrong I did not attempt to gain votes by favoring it." Mr.
Hughes has pointed out how, as Governor he accomplished enactment, after enactment regulating and prohibiting child labor, compelling ventilation and sanitary arrangements in factories, limiting the hours of labor; fixing an 8-hour day for railroad telegraph and telephone operators engaged in dispatching trains; compelling semi-monthly instead of monthly payment of railway employees; amending the law compelling cash payment of wages, making it include additional concerns; how he reorganized the Labor Department, procured the creation of the Bureau of Mercantile Inspection, and appointed a labor man of proved ability and worth as its head. Mr.
Hughes, it will be remembered, was enthusiastically endorsed at the conclusion of his service as Gov-nor, as a friend of labor by the official organ of the Federation of Labor in New York state.

President Can Present Interesting Road Figures.

One of the speeches that President Wilson is scheduled to make within the next few weeks is at Indianapolis October 12, before a good roads convention. No doubt the president will make reference to the good roads bill which the Democratic congress has passed and which he signed. This measure provides a total sum of $85,000,000 for federal aid to the states in good roads construction and of this sum $5,000,000 is immediately available.
It will be interesting to note in this connection if the president will go into further details and give the figures in apportioning the good roads money. These figures will be quite interesting to an Indiana audience. For example, that state is to receive $135,747 from the $5-000,000 now available and the state has a total population of 2,700,000 people.

The total valuation of property in that state is $5,194,000,000 and the state paid last year into the federal treasury in taxes $30,947,000.
The state of Georgia has a population practically the same as that of Indiana but with a property valuation of only $2,382,000,000 and the state's contribution to the federal treasury was $1,370,000. Yet Georgia's share of the federal fund is $134,329, or only $1,148 less than that of Indiana. Illinois gets $22-926 from this federal road fund and yet this state has a population more than double that of Georgia and paid last year into the federal treasury $85,285,000, or 65 times as much as that paid by Georgia.
It is the now old story of the "south in the saddle."

Hog Price in Usual October Slump

The price of hogs is coming down in a manner as spectacular as the ascending market was sensational.
Record price of 12c for hogs was made about two weeks ago and then came the downward tendency.
Tuesday of this week the packers took off 25c and yesterday there was a drop of 50c. As a result local buyers are now offering less than 8c and the 8c mark will be reached soon. The sudden slumping in price gives further evidence of the perfect manner in which packers control the market.

There is a great supply of spring pigs weighing from 150 to 225 lbs. that are now ready for shipment or will be ready for shipment within the next six weeks. So following precedent the lower price levels will be maintained until the spring pig supply has been marketed. The prediction to higher prices again.
While acknowledging how clearly they are at the mercy of the packers, farmers have this comforting fact to remember, that even at the present price of corn, they can stand a considerably lower hog market and still make good money.

The Price of Bread

It is said that Jacksonville bakers will meet today to determine the question as to whether the price of the present 5c loaf of bread shall be increased or the size of the loaf decreased. Bakers in many other cities have taken similar action, declaring that the sharp advances in the price of flour, lard, and the other ingredients of bread make change in price absolutely necessary for their product. In some cities the bakers must overcome the situation presented by the fact that the law fixes the weight of the loaf that they must sell or 5c, and not without authority can they change the size or the price.

Unless profits in bread have been abnormal in the past, there is nothing surprising about the bakers now seeking a higher price for their product, for the greater cost of bread making ingredients is common knowledge. In fairness to the public however, bakers should be required to indicate to the public the exact weight of the loaf they are selling at an announced price.
Market conditions indicate the justice of a higher price for bread.
Market conditions indicate the "high cost of living" once referred to somewhat facetiously, is a serious matter for the increases apply to practically all necessities, including food, clothing and fuel.

WILL HOLD CONFERENCES TO DISCUSS INFANTILE PARALYSIS

State Board of Health Makes Preparation for Possible Epidemic Next Summer.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—In anticipation of an epidemic of infantile paralysis over the country next summer the Illinois State Board of Health is arranging for a number of health conferences at different points in the state during the coming winter months, it was announced here today. The object of these conferences, Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the state board explains, will be to give the medical profession, health officials and the public generally the advantage of all the latest knowledge relating to infantile paralysis and to promote the development of more efficient health organization in the smaller cities and towns and rural communities to the end that Illinois may be in the best possible position to combat any threatened invasion of the disease next summer. The first of the conferences will be held in November.

Plans are being laid to hold the meetings at some eight different points. The programs will include lectures by those who have had experience with the disease.

Summary of Conditions
A summary of the condition of infantile paralysis in this state, just complete my Dr. Drake, indicates that the number of deaths from infantile paralysis this year have been far less than in prior years, though there were a great many more cases than were discovered in any previous year and the subject was given wider discussion than ever before.
For instance, in 1911, with death records probably 60 percent complete, there were recorded 92 deaths from infantile paralysis. In that year only 141 cases were reported, as against 648 for the year 1916 up to Sept. 23. The percentage of deaths to reported cases this year was 9.7 percent while in 1911 the percentage was as high as 65.2.
In 1910 when 77 deaths were recorded, the percentage was 66.2.

The counties which have been most seriously affected are LaSalle, 55 cases; Macon, 25 cases; Piatt,
28 cases and portions of Bureau, DeWitt, Livingston, Moultrie, St.
Clair and Clark counties, where the conditions were equally threatening.

He was a successful and prosperous farmer until a few years ago, when held Friday morning at 11 o'clock at Union Baptist church, of which the deceased was a member. Interment will be in Union cemetery.

AUTOMOBILE COLLISION
A collision took place on the Springfield road by which one car was somewhat damaged and another badly shaken up. William Corring-ham was entering the road from a lane or field in a Ford runabout and Troy Chapin was going east in his Cadillac car. Neither saw the other till too late to avoid a collision and the Ford was somewhat damaged but the Cadillac was able to pursue its journey.

HOME TALENT CIRCUS
The annual home talent circus, held at Mt. Sterling, gives promise this year of exceeding all previous will go to Mt. Sterling today to attend the event.

Dear Sir:

I am in search of a wife and

Miss Evalie Petefish To Wed Next Month

Miss Lora Petefish entertained a company of thirty friends at her home in Litterberry Wednesday afternoon, from 2 to 5 o'clock, in honor of her sister, Miss Evalie Petefish whose approaching marriage to Clyde Lewis of Prentice was then announced.

White and yellow were the colors used in decoration. In the contests of the afternoon Miss Annabel Crum and Mrs. Earl Underbrink were winners.

The prospective bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Petefish, Sr., and has a host of friends in Litterberry and northern Morgan county who will extend best wishes. Mr. Lewis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis and is a well known young farmer of the Prentice vicinity.

When the guests were invited to the dining room their suspicion was aroused by the sight of a large mirror, used as a center-piece, bearing upon its surface a toy ship, draped in white. Upon the deck stood two white figures as if just ready to set sail, perhaps upon a long voyage. Miss Lora Petefish read a poem, dedicated to the voyagers, the last stanza of which follows: "Each lady will find, tucked away out of sight, "A little card tied with a ribbon white."

"If you will only pull that bow apart "You will find the voyagers' names and when they start."

"Clyde Lewis Evalie Petefish, Nov. 2," was the inscription found within the dainty heart-shaped leaflets.

PENNANT TO BE GIVEN I. C. FOOTBALL TEAM.

Ralph I. Dunlap's Gift Will Commemorate Victories of 1915 Team—Board of Control Action Approved.

Postmaster Ralph I. Dunlap has ordered a pennant to be presented to Illinois college for the winning of the 1915 football championship of the "little nineteen" conference. The announcement was made following a meeting of the athletic board of control Tuesday evening. Mr. Dunlap made the offer and it was accepted by the board.

T. C. McVicar has drafted a design for the pennant and it was hoped to have it ready for raising at Eastern Illinois Normal game Friday. However, it was found impossible to get the materials for making the pennant in time for that game.

At the regular meeting of the student body Wednesday the body voted its approval of the action of the board of control. A committee consisting of Coach W. T. Harmon, William Berryman, Miss Ruth Weyand, James Capps and Fred Blum was appointed to prepare a suitable program for the flag raising ceremony. A rising vote of thanks was also given Mr. Dunlap for his generosity.

The pennant will be placed on a flag pole forty feet high at the west end of the gridiron and will be surmounted by an American flag. The pennant probably will be raised at the St. Louis University-Illinois game, which this year is the annual home coming game of the school.

JUANITA BURR LAID TO REST IN DIAMOND GROVE

Many Friends of the Family Gathered for Funeral Services Wednesday Afternoon.

There is a particular sadness about the going of a child, taken suddenly in the midst of life and hope. So there were many burdened hearts in the company which assembled Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Burr on Mound avenue for the funeral service in memory of their little daughter, Juanita Burr. Yet there was a certain amount of cheerfulness and comfort mingled with the tears as those present were able to summon to memory the beauty of the child's life and character.

Rev. M. L. Pontius was in charge of the service and emphasized the thought that the little girl who had lived so sweetly here had crossed the border and gone to the room beyond with its larger life and greater possibilities. The minister said that although Juanita Burr had lived but thirteen years, that she had given evidence of unusual character strength in her kindness of heart and in her appreciation of the beauties of nature, recognizing even in her young years the God of nature behind those beauties. So the minister said that her associates had speedily learned to love this girl, reared in a Christian home "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

"We can remember at this hour," said Mr. Pontius, "that for Juanita life is just beginning in this which we call death. It is in truth a transition, a change of spheres, but let us not underestimate the value of that life spent here for such a short span of years any more than we hold valueless the sweet incense of the rose because the flower so soon fades and is gone. Before Christ came death was called the great adversary, the enemy against which eternal combat must be waged, but Christ gave to us the picture of the maiden whose life had seemingly gone out just as that of our little friend today, and His words were, 'She is not dead but sleepeth.' The words are applicable today as we think of the going of Juanita and the thought can give comfort to our hearts as we know the truth of that statement that 'she is not dead but sleepeth.'"

"To a weary body sleep gives rest and succor from pain and for the young and old who have lived in righteousness and spiritual beauty, the sleep beyond the border line certainly brings refreshment to the soul. We know from our faith that God has prepared an immortal home for those who love Him, and so 'Let not your hearts be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me; in My Father's house are many mansions, if it were not so I would have told you.'"

Earlier in the service Rev. Mr. Pontius read suitable passages of scripture and closed with words of prayer. Mrs. William Burr, Jr., sang a slumber song for which Mrs. Burr wrote both words and music several years ago. Mrs. W. B. Huffaker was her accompanist on the piano. Young girl friends were largely represented among those who cared for the many beautiful flowers. This number included Belle Palmer, Elizabeth Palmer, Dorothy Farrell, Ruth Reynolds, Anna West Bradley, Lynette Mae Brown, Frances Waddell, Lucile Mackness, Mrs. Paul Thompson, Mrs. G. H. Kopper, Misses Anna Brown and Frances Hubble. The bearers were George Huffaker, Jr., Brown Burr, Joel W. Hubble, W. B. Huffaker, Charles H. Eldred and Dr. G. H. Kopper. Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Pontius in the service read the following poem written by Edith Porteus Thayer, "Underneath are the Everlasting Arms," verses, he said, which had brought special comfort to the members of the family in this their time of very great sorrow:

"The Everlasting Arms."—How close they hold me
When fierce temptation's blasts around me sweep; Sin's power is baffled while those Arms enfold me; God's strength can keep.

"The Everlasting Arms."—I feel them tighten When sorrow's shadow on my soul is cast;
Kept by God's power, my heaviest burdens lighten;
He holds me fast.

"The Everlasting Arms."—They clasp the stronger
As friend forsakes and enemy derides;
The deepest wounds can hurt my soul no longer;
—God's peace abides.

"The Everlasting Arms."—When strength is wanting
I feel their infinite yet tender power;
They give me grace, sufficient, all-sustaining,
For every hour.

O Everlasting Arms, strong and defending,
In such protection let me always stay;
Then shall the night of life have glorious ending
In perfect day.

CHINCH-BUG SITUATION
DESCRIBED IN CIRCULAR

Professor Forbes tells of the Great Loss Due to the Chinch-bug Outbreak.

"A destructive outbreak of the chinch-bug, the first beginnings of which were seen in Illinois in the fall of 1909, continued with growing intensity and gradually widening area until the spring of 1915 when it suddenly collapsed," writes Professor Forbes, State Entomologist in a summary in Circular No. 180 published by the Agricultural Experiment station. "A careful computation of losses resulting, based upon a comparison of crop yields and crop conditions in seventeen infested counties, shows that the yield of corn, wheat and oats in these infested counties was diminished by chinch bug infestation in the year 1914 as follows: corn $5,045,874; wheat, $1,356,039; oats, $41,071—a total of $6,442,984. Taking further account of losses in six other counties in 1914, and in five other years of the period of the outbreak, $13,000,000 is arrived at as the lowest reasonable estimate of the total immediate loss in these three staple crops. Secondary effects of the outbreak are illustrated by a comparison of statistics of live-stock production in four infested and four uninfested counties, showing that beef and dairy cattle of the four infested counties fell off in numbers in value of nearly half a million dollars, as a plain consequence of the destruction of crops by chinch-bugs.

"The principal measures for the control of a chinch-bug outbreak are the burning out of the insects in their winter quarters and their destruction at harvest time by means of impassable barriers and lines of post hole traps placed beside infested fields of wheat. Although winter burning on a large scale proved impracticable in Illinois owing to wet and snowy winter, small scale field experiments with this operation, under conditions locally and temporarily favorable, destroyed from 50 to 75 per cent of the chinch-bugs under harborage burned over.

"Data obtained concerning the results of the final campaign of 1914 showed that in thirteen counties of west-central Illinois two thousand barrels of cresote and a thousand barrels of coal tar were used together with considerable quantities of other materials, and that at least fifteen hundred miles of barrier were maintained in these counties at a total cost of $40,500 for materials and labor, with the result to protect against injury by chinch-bug corn fields aggregating 190,590 acres and yielding 4,764,750 bushels of corn, a fourth of which yield, worth $715,000 was due to the protective measures. This was a net profit of $674,212 on an investment of $40,500 a ratio of 1665 per cent. If each infested wheat field had been wholly surrounded, the profit would still have been 342 per cent on the cost of labor and materials.

Oats For Hogs

Oats in my community are costing less than one-half per bushel than corn. Are they an economical feed for spring pigs that are being fed corn, tankage, and alfalfa pasture? Could you feed them to old sows that are to farrow fall pigs?

Where you can get oats for 30 to 35¢ and corn for 65¢ you can afford to use some of the oats in feeding hogs. Oats make good feed for young growing pigs and brood sows but are rather bulky for the fattening hog after 140 to 150 pounds. You could use about half oats and half corn for these pigs which you are feeding on corn, tankage and alfalfa. Probably oats would be the most valuable to feed to the brood sows, which you have in mind. For fattening hogs, we generally consider that oats are about one fourth as valuable as corn per pound, so with corn (56 pounds per bushel) at 65¢, oats would be worth about 27 1-2¢—J. B. Rice, Animal Husbandry Dep., University of Illinois.

Quality the Most Essential Thing in Live Stock

Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper, says about live stock: "Quality becomes more essential to profit in live-stock farming each season. When labor, land, and feed were cheap it was possible to realize a profit on live stock of an inferior grade, but with the present high cost of these production factors and a constant discrimination on the market against the 'scrub,' it has become evident that the greatest profit can be expected only from live stock of good quality. It may be possible for the feeder or dealer to make a profit on inferior live stock if he is able to buy it sufficiently cheap and sell quickly, but usually someone has not realized the greatest possible profit when a scrub goes to market. If it is not the feeder, it is the man who produced the animal."

SUIT BROUGHT TO CONSTRUCT WILL OF LATE FRANK RANTZ

Uncertainty Exists As to Rights of C. F. Wemple as Trustee to Collect Farm Rents.

In the circuit court William T. Wilson as attorney for Charles F. Wemple, trustee under the will of the late Frank Rantz, has filed a bill directed against Francis R. Rantz et al, asking the court to construe the will. When the late Frank Rantz died some years ago he left a will containing provisions that one-half the personality to be placed in the hands of C. F. Wemple as trustee and executor for the benefit of his son Francis Rantz, a minor. The trustee also was to collect the rents from certain farm lands which were eventually to become the property of the son.

According to the provisions of the will the personality funds were to be paid over to the ward when he reached the age of twenty-one years, and further certain payments were to be made when the young man reached the age of twenty-five, and the title was not to be transferred until he reached the age of thirty years. At the time the will was filed Walter Rogers, as guardian of young Rantz, maintained that the rents arising from land should be paid to him. The case was taken into the Morgan county court and later appealed to the appellate court and the decision was that the rents should be handled by the trustee. However, the court did not rule as to whether the rents should be paid to the trustee or the young man after he had reached the age of twenty-one, and it is for the purpose of determining his rights and as a protection to himself for his future acts that the trustee is now bringing the suit asking that the court construe the will.

HAXTON IN JAIL ON BOOTLEGGING CHARGE
Motion for New Trial Denied by Judge Thomson--Superseas May Be Secured to Get Man Out of Jail.

In the county court Wednesday Judge Thomson overruled the motion for new trial in the case of Walter Haxton, alias Pete Haxton, recently convicted of selling liquor in anti-saloon territory. The court sentenced Haxton to thirty days in jail and to pay a fine of $200 and the costs, which amount to $42. Haxton was thereupon taken to the county jail. It is likely that he will be released before many days as his attorneys are expecting to appeal the case to the appellate court and it will be possible to secure release of Haxton thru supersedeas proceedings.

The argument on the motion for a new trial was begun last Saturday and was continued until Wednesday to give State's Attorney Hairgrove an opportunity to present some authorities. John M. Butler and Paul Samuel, attorneys for Haxton, base their motion for a new trial upon several charges of errors in the trial of the case. One of these points was that it is mandatory for the foreman of a grand jury to write the names of witnesses that testify in a case before the grand jury on the back of the indictment when a true bill is returned. The contention of the state's attorney was that this was not necessary in the case of a misdemeanor. Other minor points were brought forward as the argument progressed.

DR. J. L. WILCOX CLOSED LONG LIFE AT HOME IN KENTUCKY

Deceased Attended Illinois College Years Ago and Had Been Prominent in State History.

Word has been received in the city of the death of Dr. Josiah L. Wilcox, which occurred Monday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clarence B. Wilson, at Smithfield, Ky. Dr. Wilcox was eighty years of age, having been born at Island Grove, Sangamon county, November 25, 1836. He had long been prominent in medical and political circles in this part of the state, having served as member of the legislature in 1874 and as a member of the pension examining board and collector of internal revenue in this district during the administration of President Cleveland. For five years he served as city physician of Springfield. He attended Shurtleff college at Upper Alton, Illinois college in this city, and Rush Medical college, Chicago, and was afterwards graduated from the St. Louis Medical college. In 1859 Dr. Wilcox was married to Miss Alice V. Baker, whose death occurred the same year, and in 1865 he was married to Miss Jean F. Patterson.

Dr. Wilcox practiced medicine in Manito, Ill., until the outbreak of the Civil War, when he enlisted as a surgeon in the 11th Illinois cavalry, serving until 1865. From that date until 1880 he practiced his profession in Loami, Ill., going from there to Springfield, where he was located until recent years. He had for the past year made his home with his daughter in Smithfield, Ky.

The remains were brought to Springfield Wednesday and interment will be made in Oak Ridge cemetery. Further funeral arrangements will be announced at a later date.

STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE
Lillie May Filkins, four years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Filkins of 224 Anna street was struck by an automobile driven by George Peck at the intersection of South West and Anna streets about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. She was bruised considerably on the legs and one arm and there was a slight cut on the right side of the head. No bones were broken and Dr. Hardesty who was called does not think the accident will result seriously.

The little girl in company with her sister a little older had gone to the store of James Large to get some candy. She evidently became confused in crossing the street and got in front of the automobile. Fortunately Mr. Peck was driving very slowly and was able to stop the car instantly. Had he been going at a rapid rate of speed the child probably would have been killed.

BOYS ARRESTED FOR FLIPPING TRAINS

Payson DeSilva, Leroy Sellers and James Burkley were fined $15 each and costs in Justice Dyer's court Wednesday on the charge of flipping trains. Warrants are out for two other boys but they have not yet been apprehended. The arrests were made on complaint of W. C. Heaton, special agent of the Burlington.

It seems there has been considerable complaint recently about boys riding trains and Mr. Heaton was sent by the company to Jacksonville to break up the practice. Tuesday Mr. Heaton was in Franklin when he met the boys named above. They had beat their way on a freight train from Jacksonville. Mr. Heaton asked the boys where they lived and they pointed to a house in Franklin near the railroad as their place of residence. However, he had had trouble with them before and recognized them. He took their names and ordered them to report at Justice Dyer's court Wednesday morning.

It is said that the boys uncoupled a train in Franklin and caused a delay of traffic for about two hours.

These boys have been making a practice of stealing rides on trains to nearby towns and arriving home about the time school was dismissed. Justice Dyer held the fines in abeyance pending the future behavior of the boys.

Did You Use the New Vacuum Cleaner Today?

Mr. Benton had just come home from his work and noticed the vacuum cleaner standing in the corner of the dining room.

"Yes, you can bet I did," returned Mrs. Benton, "I gave the house the most thorough cleaning that its had since last house-cleaning time."

"I went over all the rugs and gave each mattress a good cleaning, too. You see, the different nozzels we got with the cleaner are just the very things to clean beneath the beds and tables and the out-of-way places that are so hard to reach with the old broom. The tufted upholstery and the mattresses were also very easy to clean—but the biggest gain of all was the time saved on my sweeping and cleaning today. I don't believe it took me much more than half as long as it used to."

(Mr. Benton's birthday is coming soon, with a chafing dish party. Don't miss it. Watch Friday's Journal.)

Escape TOOTH Troubles

—by keeping your teeth REALLY CLEAN.

"But," you say, "I brush my teeth regularly, yet they decay." Yes, you brush them, but do you REALLY CLEAN them? Tonight, after brushing your teeth, examine them closely. You will likely find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding in the crevices.

Decay, as well as the dangerous gum disease called Pyorrhea, usually develop only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present. SENRECO, the formula of a dental specialist, keeps the teeth REALLY CLEAN. It embodies specially prepared soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Moreover, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea.

Go to your dealer today and get a tube of Senreco—keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

YOU'RE BILLIOUS! LET "CASCARETS" LIVE! LIVER AND BOWELS

Don't Stay Headachy, Constipated, Don't Stay Headachy, Constipated, Stomach Sour.

Get a 10-cent box now. You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have a bad cold.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts; cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach, sweet, liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.—Adv.
